

Windows 95/98

1. Download and install the PPD, Prinerger Refiner.ppd into C:\Windows\System.
2. Download and launch the driver installer. Click NEXT.
Note: If you already had a previous version of Adobe PS installed, you may be asked to upgrade or install a new driver. If so, choose “...install a new PostScript printer” and click NEXT.
3. If you accept the license agreement, Click ACCEPT.
4. Choose “It is directly connected... (Local Printer)”. Click NEXT.
5. Choose FILE: Creates a file on disk. Click NEXT.
6. Click on BROWSE, navigate to C:\Windows\System and highlight Prinerger Refiner from the list. Click OK then click NEXT.
7. Enter the printer name Prinerger Refiner.
Default: No
Test Print: No
Click NEXT.
8. Click Install.
9. The printer configuration window will come up. Click on No.
Click NEXT.
10. Deselect View ReadMe file and Click Finish.
11. From the Start menu, choose Settings > Printers.
12. Right-click on Prinerger Refiner printer and choose Properties.
13. Click on the Fonts tab and edit the properties to match the screen capture.

Before you start:

Download the Prinerger Refiner.ppd and the Adobe Universal Postscript Driver Installer from ncitools.com website.

14. Click on Send Fonts As.. from the bottom-left and edit the properties to match the following screen capture. Click OK.

a.

15. Click on the PostScript tab and edit the properties to match the following screen capture.

17. Click OK.

16. Click on Advanced from the bottom-left and edit the properties to match the following screen capture. Click OK

